What the Baker Found Out

One of our Secretaries recounts this interesting story of her experience with her baker. He had called to deliver the daily supply of bread, and she invited him in to see her Larkin Neighborhood Pantry.

"There isn't anything I want," he protested, "the only thing that I can think of that I need right now is a bottle of Witch Hazel Extract."

"And I can furnish that very article, right away," replied the Larkin Secretary. "I can sell you a pint bottle of Larkin Witch Hazel Extract from my Pantry for 38¢."

"That's a bargain," replied the baker, "if it's good. I pay twice that in town."

"None better," responded the Secretary, "if it comes from Larkin Co you can be sure it is the best."

The baker stepped in and took a glance at the Larkin Secretary's Neighborhood Pantry. "Here are lots of other things ready for immediate delivery," said the Secretary.

"You'll save proportionately as much on many other articles in this Larkin Pantry. Just take a moment and look over the many things you may purchase," added the Secretary delighted, at the man's ready admission of the saving he could make.

The baker followed her suggestion, glanced over her Pantry shelves. How glad he was to be able to obtain Shaving Cream and other Larkin Products at prices way below what the stores asked! When he left that Secretary's home, he had bought not only Witch Hazel, but a number of other articles that he was pleased to obtain for so little money.

You already know what the baker found out. You have undoubtedly again and again in your experience, proved to friends that ordering Larkin Products will mean a great saving to them.

Your Pantry shelves should be kept well stocked with spices, extracts, baking powder, etc. for cooking demands that lie ahead. Don't be without a variety of Larkin Products. "Taking time by the forelock" is a wise thing. As we have said, what the baker learned you already know, but to profit by what we know, we have to put it into use.

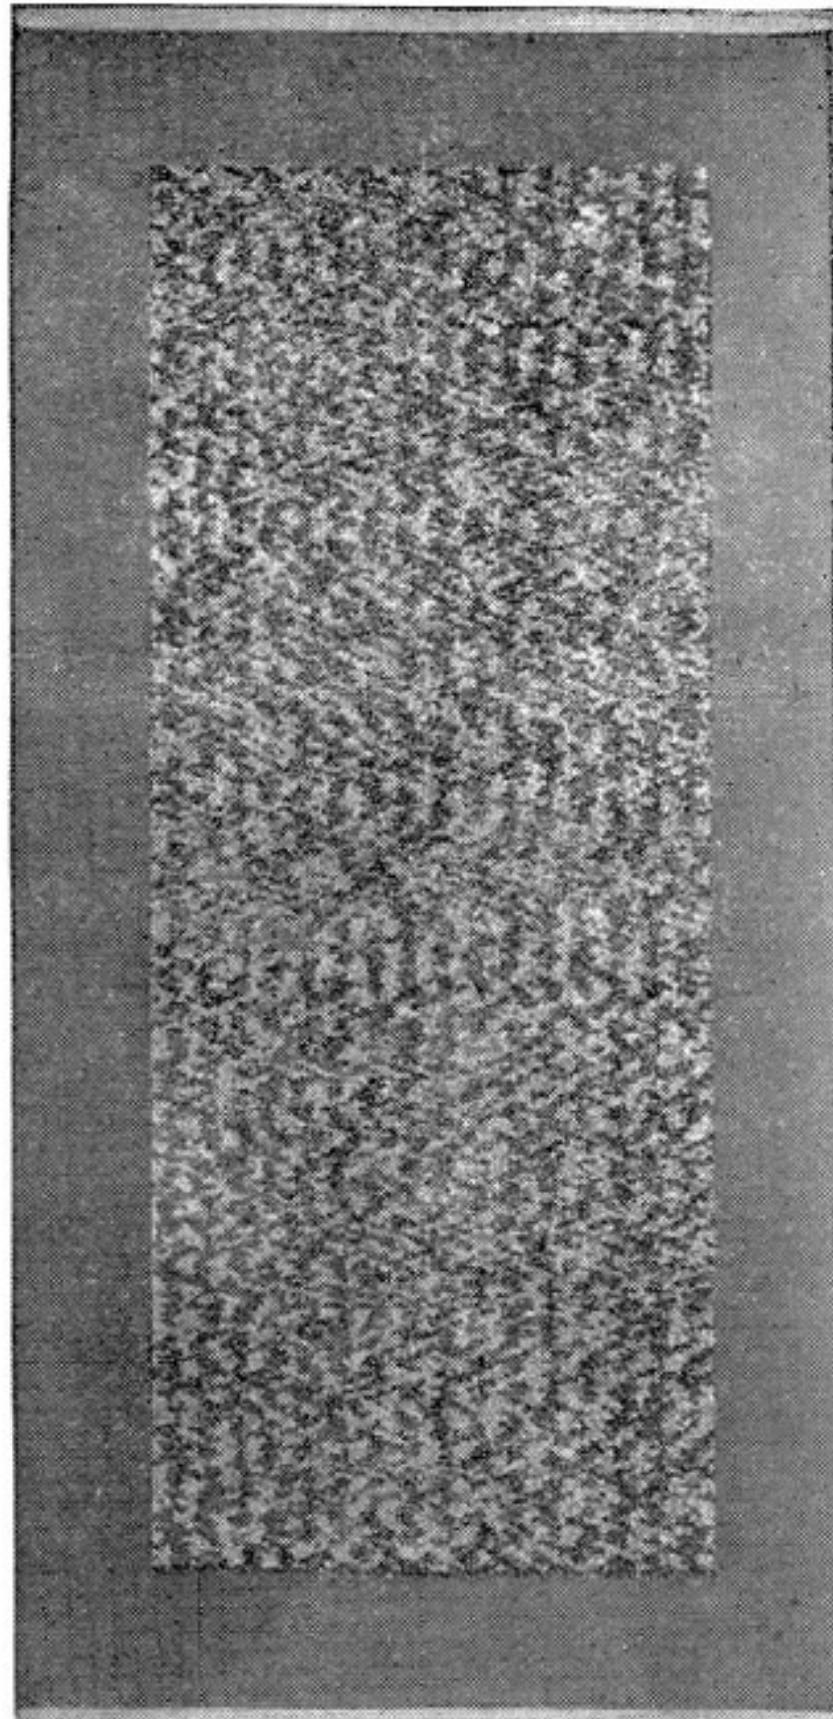

There is a moral to this, too. Ask every one who calls at your home to look at your Larkin Pantry. Seeing is selling.
